

PUBLIC ACCESS DURING CONSTRUCTION

The Cowichan Valley Regional District and its funding partners are excited that work to rehabilitate and open the historic Kinsol Trestle to the public is now underway!

Unfortunately, access to the trestle site from the South end (Glen Eagles Road/Renfrew Road in Shawnigan Lake) is closed to the public for safety reasons due to ongoing construction activities for the duration of the project. Expected opening is Spring 2011.

However, a public viewing area is established at the North end overlooking the trestle with great views of the rehabilitation work underway. See map and directions below.

To find out more about the project and opportunities to donate, visit www.kinsol.ca

For all public viewing of the Kinsol Trestle please go to the parking area on the North side of the trestle.

EXTREME FIRE HAZARD IN THE AREA!

NO SMOKING

To get there:

- From the Trans Canada Highway, turn West on Koksilah Road
- Turn left on Riverside Road and follow for approximately 10 km
- The road turns into gravel then ends at the parking lot on the left.

See map for directions

C·V·R·D

Major Project Funding Contributors

Canada
COWICHAN
FOUNDATION

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation